

The Clinton Church of England School Newsletter | 14th May 2021

Dear Parents and Carers,

Another productive week has whizzed by in school with yet more developments towards our school improvement plan and ensuring excellence as standard. The children are enthused and excited by the learning taking place and the environmental changes that reflect our C360. This week we have had a board of director, Mrs. Gill Marlow, visit school alongside our chair of the LSC, Mrs. Sally Lawson – both remarked on the incredible displays and learning environment for our children.

Innovation:

The key stage 2 chrome books were delivered this week! Mr. Railston arrived with them all on Monday and spent the afternoon supporting pupils to set them up and navigate around them. This week the pupils have been getting used to learning on them as well as continuing to write in their fabulous new bespoke workbooks. Mr. Railston will be back on Monday next week to see how everyone is getting on and will begin to show the pupils how they can collaborate with one another on pieces of work and across the MAT schools.

Community:

Next Wednesday I have booked in a coffee morning for parents. I had wanted this to be face to face, however, given that we are still only allowed to meet up to 6 people inside, I will be holding this meeting online. I have put the time back to 9.30am to enable parents to drop off and then log on. The agenda for the session will
